Dear Mr. Garg:

Re: Android Developer Position

I am writing to you for the position of Android Developer as published in the daily newspaper.

I am a budding software engineer currently working on android and have the required skillset you mentioned for. I am highly motivated to work for relinns technologies and I assure that I will contribute to the company with the best of my capability if selected.

I am currently exploring android development and have published many apps on google play store which includes games and API based apps which are also available on github. During my summer vacations, I participated in the google summer of code with open source computer vision library (OpenCV) and made an android app which could refocus on any object even after capturing the picture. I have rich experience with JSON in which I have used the open weather API which fetched weather data from an open source API.

I have excellent communication and leadership skills which put me ahead of my peers. As a part of my journey at Chitkara University, I also lead a technical group called chitkara open source Community which tends to contribute to the open source community.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Ishmeet Singh
